

3.00

PARTICULAR TYPES OF EVIDENCE

INTRODUCTION

As a general proposition, the Committee disapproves of instructions which comment on particular types of evidence, e.g., flight. We agree with those cases holding that “Courts are under a general obligation to avoid giving instructions which unduly emphasize one part of the evidence in a case, and are not required to give an instruction that would provide the jury with no more guidance than that available to them by application of common sense.” People v. McClellan, 62 Ill.App.3d 590, 595, 378 N.E.2d 1221 (1st Dist.1978).

There are, however, certain exceptions to the general disapproval. This Chapter contains those exceptions. Each of the following instructions should be used only in cases where it is applicable.

Introduction Approved October 17, 2014

3.01

Date Of Offense Charged

The [(indictment) (information) (complaint)] states that the offense charged was committed [(on or about)] _____. If you find the offense charged was committed, the State is not required to prove that it was committed on the particular date charged.

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

See People v. Vaughn, 390 Ill. 360, 61 N.E.2d 546 (1945); People v. Bote, 379 Ill. 245, 40 N.E.2d 55 (1942).

This instruction should be given only when there is a variance between the date alleged and the evidence, and all dates are within the period of limitations. It should not be given if the State has filed a bill of particulars stating the date of the crime.

The filing of a bill of particulars does not necessarily preclude the use of this instruction. Give this instruction whenever the time variance is immaterial. See People v. Suter, 292 Ill.App.3d 358, 685 N.E.2d 1023 (4th Dist. 1997).

Insert in the blank the date of the alleged offense.

Use applicable bracketed material.

3.02

Definition Of Circumstantial Evidence

Circumstantial evidence is the proof of facts or circumstances which give rise to a reasonable inference of other facts which tend to show the guilt or innocence of [(the) (a)] defendant. Circumstantial evidence should be considered by you together with all the other evidence in the case in arriving at your verdict.

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

This instruction should not be given when all of the evidence is direct. People v. Gardner, 4 Ill.2d 232, 122 N.E.2d 578 (1954).

For an example of the use of this instruction, see Sample Sets 27.02, 27.05, 27.06, and 27.07.

3.03 Flight

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

The Committee recommends that no instruction be given on this subject.

Although evidence of flight is a proper subject of argument, its probative value is questionable. See Wong Sun v. United States, 371 U.S. 471, 83 S.Ct. 407, 9 L.Ed.2d 441 (1963); see also United States v. Jackson, 572 F.2d 636 (7th Cir.1978). The use of flight instructions has frequently been found to constitute error. See, e.g., People v. Henderson, 39 Ill.App.3d 502, 348 N.E.2d 854 (3d Dist.1976) (Stouder, J., specially concurring) (collecting cases). For these reasons, the Committee believes that a flight instruction should not be given.

Motive

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

The Committee recommends that no instruction be given on this subject.

Although motive or lack of motive is a proper subject of argument, it is not an element which must be proved by the State. An instruction which defines the word “motive” and then explains “its immateriality for a purpose other than one probative of intent, only creates confusion far greater than any clarification an instruction might accomplish.” Federal Jury Instructions of the Seventh Circuit 23 (1980). No instruction should be given. People v. Harrod, 140 Ill.App.3d 96, 488 N.E.2d 316 (4th Dist.1986).

Separate Consideration For Each Defendant

You should give separate consideration to each defendant. Each is entitled to have his case decided on the evidence and the law which applies to him.

[Any evidence which was limited to [(one defendant) (some defendants)] should not be considered by you as to [(any) (the)] other defendant[s].]

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

Give this instruction only when there is more than one defendant.

Give the second paragraph when appropriate.

Use applicable bracketed material.

For an example of the use of this instruction, see Sample Set 27.03.

3.06-3.07
Statements By Defendant

You have before you evidence that [(the) (a)] defendant made [a] statement[s] relating to the offense[s] charged in the [(indictment) (information) (complaint)]. It is for you to determine [whether the defendant made the statement[s], and, if so,] what weight should be given to the statement[s]. In determining the weight to be given to a statement, you should consider all of the circumstances under which it was made.

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

The bracketed phrase in the second sentence should be deleted only when the defendant admits making all the material statements attributed to him.

The Committee decided that whether a statement is an admission, confession, or false exculpatory statement is a legal conclusion that ought not to be communicated to the jury. This instruction avoids the complications that ensue when a judge characterizes a statement. See People v. Horton, 65 Ill.2d 413, 358 N.E.2d 1121 (1976); People v. Sovetsky, 323 Ill. 133, 153 N.E. 615 (1926); People v. Oliver, 50 Ill.App.3d 665, 365 N.E.2d 618 (1st Dist.1977).

Use applicable bracketed material.

For an example of the use of this instruction, see Sample Set 27.01.

3.08
Statements--Multiple Defendants

A statement made by one defendant may not be considered by you against any other defendant.

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

Give this instruction in conjunction with Instruction 3.06-3.07. It applies when a statement by one defendant in a multiple defendant case has been admitted only against the declarant. The judge should distinguish this situation from that where a defendant's words are admitted against all defendants on the theory that the words were in furtherance of a conspiracy or joint venture.

3.09
Dying Declaration

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

The Committee recommends that no instruction be given on a dying declaration.

Whether a statement is admissible as a dying declaration is a question of law to be decided by the trial court. People v. Tilley, 406 Ill. 398, 94 N.E.2d 328 (1950); People v. Hubbs, 401 Ill. 613, 83 N.E.2d 289 (1948). The significance of this evidence is a proper subject of argument to the jury.

3.10

Right Of Attorney Or Attorney's Investigator To Interview Witness

It is proper for an [(attorney) (attorney's investigator)] to interview or attempt to interview a witness for the purpose of learning the testimony the witness will give.

[However, the law does not require a witness to speak to [(an attorney) (an attorney's investigator)] before testifying.]

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

This instruction should not be given unless the jury has heard testimony that a witness was interviewed or was asked to be interviewed by an attorney or an attorney's investigator.

The bracketed paragraph should not be given unless the jury has heard testimony that a witness refused to speak to an attorney or to an attorney's investigator prior to that witness testifying at trial.

This instruction is not intended to preclude argument concerning inferences to be drawn from a witness's refusal or willingness to be interviewed before testifying.

Use applicable bracketed material.

For an example of the use of this instruction, see Sample Set 27.02.

3.11

Prior Inconsistent Statements

The believability of a witness may be challenged by evidence that on some former occasion he [(made a statement) (acted in a manner)] that was not consistent with his testimony in this case. Evidence of this kind [ordinarily] may be considered by you only for the limited purpose of deciding the weight to be given the testimony you heard from the witness in this courtroom.

[However, you may consider a witness's earlier inconsistent statement as evidence without this limitation when

[1] the statement was made under oath at a [(trial) (hearing) (proceeding)].
[or]

[2] the statement narrates, describes, or explains an event or condition the witness had personal knowledge of;
and

[a] the statement was written or signed by the witness.
[or]

[b] the witness acknowledged under oath that he made the statement.
[or]

[c] the statement was accurately recorded by a tape recorder, videotape recording, or a similar electronic means of sound recording.]

It is for you to determine [whether the witness made the earlier statement, and, if so] what weight should be given to that statement. In determining the weight to be given to an earlier statement, you should consider all of the circumstances under which it was made.

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

The materiality of the earlier statement is a question of law for the court.

This instruction attempts to deal with the situation in which the jury has been permitted to hear separate earlier inconsistent statements that were offered for different purposes. One earlier inconsistent statement was offered for the limited purpose of attacking believability, while the other was offered as substantive evidence under Section 115-10.1. This instruction seeks to distinguish between these two statements.

When both kinds of earlier inconsistent statements are used for both purposes this instruction should be given in its entirety at the close of the trial. The bracketed word “ordinarily” in the first paragraph should be used in the instruction as given.

When earlier inconsistent statements are used solely for the limited purpose of attacking believability, and not as substantive evidence under Section 115-10.1, then only the first and last paragraphs, without bracketed material, should be used at the close of trial.

The Committee believes that all evidence is substantive unless limited to a non-substantive purpose, such as impeachment. That is why the Committee recommends that the first and last paragraphs of this instruction be given orally to the jury without bracketed material when the earlier inconsistent statement is being offered for a limited, non-substantive purpose. This instruction should then be given again in the final, written instructions.

There is no need to use this instruction when the earlier inconsistent statement is being offered as substantive evidence under Section 115-10.1 and no earlier inconsistent statement is being offered for use only for the purpose of impeachment.

Use the bracketed phrase “whether the witness made the earlier statement” in the last paragraph whenever the making of the statement is an issue in the case. If the making of the statement is an issue, then this phrase should be used whether the statement is being offered for substantive use or impeachment use.

Do not use numbers or letters unless paragraphs [1] and [2] are both given.

Use applicable paragraphs, subparagraphs, and bracketed material.

The bracketed numbers and letters are present solely for the guidance of court and counsel and should not be included in the instruction submitted to the jury.

For an example of the use of this instruction, see Sample Set 27.02.

3.12
Impeachment Of A Witness By Prior Conviction

Evidence that a witness has been convicted of an offense may be considered by you only as it may affect the believability of the witness.

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

This instruction should be given only when there has been impeachment of a witness by proof of a prior conviction. See People v. Montgomery, 47 Ill.2d 510, 268 N.E.2d 695 (1971); People v. Jacobs, 51 Ill.App.3d 455, 366 N.E.2d 1064 (4th Dist.1977).

3.12X.

Proof Of Prior Conviction/Prior Violent Act/Reputation--Victim--Self-Defense

In this case the State must prove beyond a reasonable doubt the proposition that the defendant was not justified in using the force which he used. You have [(heard testimony) (received evidence)] of ____'s [(prior conviction of a violent crime) (prior acts of violence) (reputation for violence)]. It is for you to determine whether ____[(was convicted) (committed those acts) (had this reputation)]. If you determine that ____[(was convicted) (committed those acts) (had this reputation)] you may consider that evidence in deciding whether the State has proved beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant was not justified in using the force which he used.

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

Give this instruction only when evidence of the victim's prior conviction for a crime of violence has been admitted pursuant to People v. Lynch, 104 Ill.2d 194, 470 N.E.2d 1018 (1984); IRE 405(b).

Insert in the appropriate blanks the name of the victim and the victim's prior conviction(s) for a crime of violence.

The Committee devised this instruction to address the nature of evidence regarding a victim's prior conviction for a crime of violence when the defendant claims self-defense. In People v. Lynch, 104 Ill.2d 194, 470 N.E.2d 1018 (1984), the Illinois Supreme Court discussed the situation in which the defendant claimed to have acted in self-defense, and held that evidence of the victim's prior convictions for crimes of violence was admissible to show the victim's aggressive and violent character.

No need exists to limit the Lynch evidence for self-defense purposes. Instead, once evidence of the victim's prior convictions for a crime of violence is admitted, it need not satisfy People v. Montgomery, 47 Ill.2d 510, 268 N.E.2d 695 (1971), to be properly considered because it may affect the victim's credibility as well. This is because Montgomery, which contains the threshold test of admissibility for convictions used solely to impeach a witness, becomes moot once the evidence of the Lynch convictions is admitted substantively. People v. Hester, 271 Ill.App.3d 954, 959, 649 N.E.2d 1351 (4th Dist. 1995).

Insert in the blanks the name of the victim.

Use applicable bracketed material.

3.13

Impeachment--Defendant--Offenses

Evidence of a defendant's previous conviction of an offense may be considered by you only as it may affect his believability as a witness and must not be considered by you as evidence of his guilt of the offense with which he is charged.

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

This instruction should be given only at the request of the defendant when there has been impeachment of the defendant by proof of a prior conviction. People v. Brandon, 283 Ill.App.3d 358, 669 N.E.2d 1253 (4th Dist.1996); see People v. Montgomery, 47 Ill.2d 510, 268 N.E.2d 695 (1971); People v. Williams, 173 Ill.2d 48, 670 N.E.2d 638 (1996) (affirming Montgomery as establishing the test for the admissibility of prior convictions for impeachment purposes).

When an essential element of the charged offense is that the defendant has been previously convicted of committing a prior offense, use Instruction 3.13X instead of this instruction. See People v. Bailey, 201 Ill.App.3d 904, 559 N.E.2d 509 (2d Dist.1990) (defendant charged with unlawful possession of weapon by felon).

For an example of the use of this instruction, see Sample Set 27.02.

3.13X

Proof Of Prior Convictions--Defendant--Admissibility

Ordinarily, evidence of a defendant's prior conviction of an offense may [be considered by you only as it may affect his believability as a witness and must] not be considered by you as evidence of his guilt of the offense with which he is charged.

However, in this case, because the State must prove beyond a reasonable doubt the proposition that the defendant has previously been convicted of ____, you may [also] consider evidence of defendant's prior conviction of the offense of ____ [only] for the purpose of determining whether the State has proved that proposition.

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

This instruction should be given only when an element of the charged offense is that the defendant has been previously convicted of committing a prior offense.

Use the bracketed phrase “[be considered by you only as it may affect his believability as a witness and must]” in the first paragraph of this instruction and use the bracketed word “[also]” in the second paragraph of this instruction only when the defendant testifies at his trial.

If the defendant does not testify at his trial, this instruction should be given only at the defendant's request; otherwise, this instruction should not be given. If the defendant does request that this instruction be given and he does not testify at trial, use the bracketed word “[only]” in the second paragraph of the instruction. Do not use any other bracketed material.

The Committee created this instruction to deal with the admissibility of evidence regarding a defendant's prior conviction when this prior conviction is an essential element of the charged offense. In People v. Bailey, 201 Ill.App.3d 904, 559 N.E.2d 509 (2d Dist.1990), the court addressed this situation when the State charged the defendant with unlawful possession of a weapon by a felon and provided a modified Instruction 3.13 to cover the defendant's testimony at his trial. In Bailey, the court stated that “[i]n effect, [use of Instruction 3.13, by itself,] would have made it impossible to convict defendant of unlawful use of weapons by a felon.” Bailey, 201 Ill.App.3d at 906, 559 N.E.2d 509. See Instructions 18.07 and 18.08, defining the offense of unlawful possession of a weapon by a felon. Accordingly, this instruction provides that when the defendant has been previously convicted of committing a prior offense and he testifies at his trial, evidence of his prior conviction is admissible as substantive evidence of the prior conviction and also as impeachment evidence against the defendant.

Insert in the blanks the defendant's prior conviction.

Use applicable bracketed material.

3.14

Proof Of Other Offenses Or Conduct

[1] Evidence has been received that the defendant[s] [(has) (have)] been involved in [(an offense) (offenses) (conduct)] other than [(that) (those)] charged in the [(indictment) (information) (complaint)].

[2] This evidence has been received on the issue[s] of the [(defendant's) (defendants')] [(identification) (presence) (intent) (motive) (design) (knowledge) (____)] and may be considered by you only for that limited purpose.

[3] It is for you to determine [whether the defendant[s] [(was) (were)] involved in [(that) (those)] [(offense) (offenses) (conduct)] and, if so,] what weight should be given to this evidence on the issue[s] of ____.

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

The Illinois Supreme Court has made clear that evidence of other crimes is admissible if it is relevant to establish any fact material to the case other than propensity to commit crime. People v. Stewart, 105 Ill.2d 22, 62, 473 N.E.2d 840 (1984); IRE 404(b). Accordingly, the Committee determined that this instruction should be broadened by including a blank within the alternatives provided to explain to the jury why the evidence is being admitted. If the court concludes that none of the specific alternatives provided in paragraph [2] of this instruction fits the facts of the case before it, then the court should set forth in the blank in this instruction whatever explanation does fit the evidence.

The issue(s) on which the evidence which is the subject of this instruction has been received must be the same issue(s) in both paragraph [2] and paragraph [3]. Accordingly, insert in the blank in paragraph [3] whatever issue(s) that appear in paragraph [2].

On occasion evidence might be received for a limited purpose that is not technically “an offense,” but for which this instruction might still be useful. Examples are People v. Carr, 114 Ill.App.2d 370, 252 N.E.2d 912 (1st Dist.1969) (in prosecution for unlawful possession and sale of a narcotic drug, State permitted to adduce evidence defendant had rented his apartment, the scene of the sale, under an assumed name); People v. Jackson, 145 Ill.App.3d 626, 495 N.E.2d 1207 (1st Dist.1986) (evidence of defendant's status and activities as a gang member admissible on issue of motive); People v. Branion, 47 Ill.2d 70, 265 N.E.2d 1 (1970) (evidence of defendant's extra-marital affair and marital discord probative of murder). To meet such circumstances, the word “conduct” has been added in paragraph [1] as an alternative to the word “offense.”

Paragraph [3] makes clear to the jury that the limited evidence which is the subject of this instruction is still to be weighed by them; they are free to accept or reject it as they see fit. When the defense concedes that the defendant performed the conduct or committed the offense that is the subject of this instruction, the bracketed portion of paragraph [3] should not be given.

Whenever this instruction is given, all three paragraphs (in whatever form is applicable) must be given to the jury.

This instruction may be given both (1) during trial, either just before or immediately after the jury is to hear the evidence in question, see People v. Roe, 228 Ill.App.3d 628, 592 N.E.2d 596 (4th Dist.1992), and (2) at the end of the trial, before jury deliberations. Roe quoted with approval the following paragraph of this Committee Note. See Roe, 228 Ill.App.3d at 636, 592 N.E.2d 596.

At the time the evidence which is the subject of this instruction is first presented to the jury, the Committee recommends that an oral instruction should be given to explain to the jury the limited purpose of this evidence, unless the defendant objects to that instruction.

If this instruction is given just before the jury is to hear the evidence in question, paragraphs [1] and [2] should be modified to begin “Evidence will be received ...” and “This evidence will be received”

In People v. Denny, 241 Ill.App.3d 345, 360-61, 608 N.E.2d 1313 (4th Dist.1993), the court wrote the following:

“Because of the significant prejudice to a defendant's case that the admission of other crimes evidence usually risks, we hold that trial courts should not only instruct the jury in accordance with IPI Criminal 2d No. 3.14 at the close of the case, but also orally from the bench (unless defendant objects) at the time the evidence is first presented to the jury.”

This instruction is not applicable to proof of prior convictions admitted on the issue of believability. See Instruction 3.13.

Care must be taken to state the proper limited purpose for the evidence. See People v. King, 165 Ill.App.3d 464, 518 N.E.2d 1309 (2d Dist.1988).

Use applicable paragraphs and bracketed material.

The bracketed numbers are present solely for the guidance of court and counsel and should not be included in the instruction submitted to the jury.

For an example of the use of this instruction, see Sample Set 27.05.

3.15

Circumstances Of Identification

When you weigh the identification testimony of a witness, you should consider all the facts and circumstances in evidence, including, but not limited to, the following:

- [1] The opportunity the witness had to view the offender at the time of the offense.
- [2] The witness's degree of attention at the time of the offense.
- [3] The witness's earlier description of the offender.
- [4] The level of certainty shown by the witness when confronting the defendant.
- [5] The length of time between the offense and the identification confrontation.

Committee Note

Amendments to Committee Note Approved July 28, 2017

This new instruction simply lists factors well-established by case law. Manson v. Brathwaite, 432 U.S. 98, 97 S.Ct. 2243 (1977); People v. Manion, 67 Ill.2d 564, 367 N.E.2d 1313 (1977); People v. Slim, 127 Ill.2d 302, 537 N.E.2d 317 (1989). The Committee believes this instruction would serve the interests of justice by offering guidance in an area that contains complexities and pitfalls not readily apparent to some jurors.

Give this instruction when identification is an issue.

See Instruction 3.15A when the identification evidence involves law-enforcement conducted line-up procedures as set forth in Article 107A of the Code of Criminal Procedure (725 ILCS 5/107A-0.1 et seq.).

Give numbered paragraphs that are supported by the evidence.

The bracketed numbers are present solely for the guidance of court and counsel and should not be included in the instruction submitted to the jury.

The jury should be instructed on only the factors with any support in the evidence. Other factors should be omitted. Do not use “or” or “and” between the factors where more than one factor is used. People v. Herron, 215 Ill.2d 167, 191-92, 830 N.E.2d 467 (2005).

For an example of the use of this instruction, see Sample Set 27.02.

3.15A

Circumstances Of Law Enforcement Lineup Identifications

You have before you evidence that a witness made an identification of [(the defendant) (another individual)] following a [(live) (photographic)] lineup conducted by [a] law enforcement [(agency) (agencies)] relating to the offense[s] charged in this case. It is for you to determine [whether the witness made an identification, and, if so,] what weight should be given to that evidence. In determining the weight to be given to this evidence, you should consider all of the facts and circumstances under which the identification was made, including, but not limited to, the procedures [(used) (or) (not used)] by the law enforcement [(agency) (agencies)].

Committee Note

725 ILCS 5/107A-0.1, et seq. (West 2020).

Give this instruction only when there is evidence that a witness made an identification pursuant to a law enforcement live or photographic lineup procedure. In those circumstances, this instruction would typically follow Instruction 3.15.

P.A. 98-104, § 10, effective January 1, 2015, significantly changed the statutory requirements for law enforcement identification procedures, and provides that “when warranted by the evidence, the jury shall be instructed that it may consider all the facts and circumstances including compliance or noncompliance with this Section to assist in its weighing of the identification testimony of an eyewitness.” 725 ILCS 5/107A-2(j)(2). Where the trial court has determined that such an instruction is warranted by the evidence, give this instruction.

The bracketed phrase in the second sentence should be included when there is some evidence disputing the making of an identification as described by section 107A-2 (725 ILCS 5/107A-2).

Use applicable bracketed material.

3.15B

Law Enforcement Identification Opinion Evidence

You have before you evidence that a law enforcement officer made an identification of [(the defendant) (an individual) (an object)] from a [(video recording) (photograph)]. It is for you to determine what weight, if any, should be given to that evidence. In determining the weight to be given to this evidence, you should not draw any inference from the fact that the witness is a law enforcement officer.

Committee Note

Instruction and Note Approved January 26, 2018

Give this instruction when a law enforcement officer provides identification testimony regarding a video recording or photograph and the evidence includes that the witness is a law enforcement officer.

In People v. Thompson, 2016 IL 118667, 49 N.E.3d 393, the Illinois Supreme Court held that a witness's identification of the defendant from a video recording or photograph constitutes lay witness opinion evidence pursuant to Illinois Rule of Evidence 701. The court further held that when the witness is a law enforcement officer and that fact is disclosed to the jury, the trial court "should properly instruct the jury, before the testimony and in the final charge to the jury," regarding that evidence. Thompson, 2016 IL 118667, ¶ 59, 49 N.E.3d at 407.

In People v. Gharrett, 2016 IL App (4th) 140315, 53 N.E.3d 332, the court applied Thompson to a law enforcement officer's opinion testimony identifying an object in a surveillance video recording.

The Committee believes that giving this Instruction does not require giving Instruction 3.15.

Use applicable bracketed material.

3.16
Evidence Of Defendant's Reputation

The defendant has introduced evidence of his reputation for [(truth and veracity) (morality) (chastity) (honesty and integrity) (being a peaceful and law-abiding citizen) (____)]. This evidence may be sufficient when considered with the other evidence in the case to raise a reasonable doubt of the defendant's guilt. However, if from all the evidence in the case you are satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt of the defendant's guilt, then it is your duty to find him guilty, even though he may have a good reputation for [(truth and veracity) (morality) (chastity) (honesty and integrity) (being a peaceful and law-abiding citizen) (____)].

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

The instruction comports with the decision in People v. Hrdlicka, 344 Ill. 211, 176 N.E. 308 (1931); see also IRE 405(a).

Testimony Of An Accomplice

When a witness says he was involved in the commission of a crime with the defendant, the testimony of that witness is subject to suspicion and should be considered by you with caution. It should be carefully examined in light of the other evidence in the case.

Committee Note

The Committee decided that accomplice testimony represents an area of evidence that requires judicial comment. See People v. Wilson, 66 Ill.2d 346, 362 N.E.2d 291 (1977). The term “accomplice” was eliminated from the instruction.

In People v. Rivera, 166 Ill.2d 279, 292, 652 N.E.2d 307 (1995), the Illinois Supreme Court held that an accomplice's testimony should be cautiously scrutinized regardless of which side he testifies for. As a result, the Committee now recommends that this instruction be given any time an accomplice testifies.

Where a witness who participated in the crime with which a defendant is charged testifies that the defendant did not participate in that crime, the trial court may modify this Instruction with the phrase “if a witness testified that he participated in the crime with which the defendant is charged”. People v. Fane, 2021 IL 126715 (2021) (holding that the trial court did not abuse its direction modifying the Instruction in this way).

The appellate court has held that trial counsel renders ineffective assistance of counsel when counsel fails to tender Instruction 3.17 under certain circumstances. People v. Campbell, 275 Ill.App.3d 993, 999, 657 N.E.2d 87 (5th Dist. 1995). The defendant is entitled to have Instruction 3.17 given to the jury (1) if the witness, rather than the defendant, could have been the person responsible for the crime, or (2) if the witness admits being present at the scene of the crime and could have been indicted either as a principal or under a theory of accountability, but denies involvement. See People v. Montgomery, 254 Ill.App.3d 782, 790, 626 N.E.2d 1254 (1st Dist.1993); People v. Lewis, 240 Ill.App.3d 463, 467, 609 N.E.2d 673 (1st Dist.1992).

For an example of the use of this instruction, see Sample Set 27.02.

Weighing Expert Testimony

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

The Committee recommends that no instruction be given on this subject. The believability of witnesses in general is the subject of Instruction 1.02. No separate instruction is needed in this area. People v. Everist, 52 Ill.App.2d 73, 201 N.E.2d 655 (1st Dist.1964).

In People v. Cloutier, 156 Ill.2d 483, 509-10, 622 N.E.2d 774 (1993), the supreme court noted that the Committee “specifically advises against any comment on the weight to be given [expert] testimony.” Relying upon the above paragraph, the court held that the trial court did not err in refusing to give the defendant's proposed instruction. Cloutier, 156 Ill.2d at 510, 622 N.E.2d 774.

Weighing Police Testimony

Committee Note

Instruction and Committee Note Approved October 17, 2014

The Committee recommends that no instruction be given on this subject. The believability of witnesses in general is the subject of Instruction 1.02. No separate instruction is needed in this area. Accord People v. Springs, 2 Ill.App.3d 817, 277 N.E.2d 764 (2d Dist.1972); see also People v. Smith, 67 Ill.App.3d 672, 385 N.E.2d 44 (1st Dist.1978); People v. Uselding, 39 Ill.App.3d 677, 350 N.E.2d 283 (4th Dist.1976); People v. Taylor, 8 Ill.App.3d 727, 290 N.E.2d 342 (2d Dist.1972).

In People v. Cloutier, 156 Ill.2d 483, 509-10, 622 N.E.2d 774 (1993), the supreme court noted that the Committee “specifically advises against any comment on the weight to be given [expert] testimony.” Relying upon the Committee Note to Instruction 3.18, the court held that the trial court did not err in refusing to give the defendant's proposed instruction. Cloutier, 156 Ill.2d at 510, 622 N.E.2d 744. The Committee believes that the same principle applies to the weight to be given police testimony.

Use Of Transcripts Of Tape-Recorded English Conversations

[(A) (An)] [(electronic) (____)] recording has been admitted into evidence. In addition to the [(electronic) (____)] recording you are being given a transcript of the [(electronic) (____)] recording. The transcript only represents what the transcriber believes was said on the [(electronic) (____)] recording, and merely serves as an aid when you listen to the [(electronic) (____)] recording. The [(electronic) (____)] recording, and not the transcript, is the evidence. If you perceive a conflict between the [(electronic) (____)] recording and the transcript, the [(electronic) (____)] controls.

Committee Note

The jury should be instructed on the role of tape-recordings and other forms of recording including but not limited to video recording, and transcripts. See People v. Hunley, 313 Ill.App.3d 16, 37-38, 728 N.E.2d 1183 (2000); People v. Criss, 307 Ill.App.3d 888, 899-900, 719 N.E.2d 776 (1999). This instruction should be given during the trial when a tape-recording or other form of recording is admitted. While a tape-recording or other form of recording should not be treated differently than any other evidentiary exhibit, the question of whether a tape-recording or other form of recording and transcript should be sent to the jury along with other exhibits at the close of the case is a matter for the trial court's discretion. Hunley, 313 Ill. App. 3d at 38, 728 N.E. 2d 1183. If the court sends the tape or other form of recording and transcript to the jury at the close of the case, this instruction should be given along with the other instructions.

Insert in the blanks the non-electronic type of recording, as applicable.

Use this instruction only when the original recording is in English. Do not give Instruction 3.20B.

When applicable, give Instruction 3.20A.

3.20A
Use Of Edited Recordings

You are about to [(watch) (hear)] a recording. This recording has been edited to eliminate portions that would not aid in your understanding of the case. The fact that the recording has been edited should not concern you in any way and must not impact the way you [(view) (listen to)] and consider the evidence.

Committee Note

This instruction should be given before an edited recording is played for the jury.

Give either Instruction 3.20 or 3.20B, as applicable.

Use applicable bracketed material.

3.20B

Translation of Non-English Language Recording

You [(are about to (hear) (watch)) (have (heard) (watched)) a recording in the _____ language. You [(have been) (were)] given a transcript of the recording that has been admitted into evidence. The transcript is an English-language translation of the recording.

Although some of you may know the _____ language, it is important that all jurors consider the same evidence. The transcript is the evidence, not the foreign language spoken in the recording. Therefore, you must accept and rely only on the English translation contained in the transcript. Disregard any perceived different meaning. Do not comment to fellow jurors on what you heard in the _____ language. Do not reinterpret for other jurors evidence that has been translated because that would be providing information not admitted in court.

Committee Note

This instruction should be given both before a recording in a language other than English is played for the jury as well as at the conclusion of the case in the final instructions to the jury.

The instruction is premised on the principle that a juror must “be capable of disregarding his or her impressions or opinions and decide the case based solely upon the evidence presented in court.” People v. Kirchner, 194 Ill. 2d 502, 529, 743 N.E.2d 94, 108 (2000); IPI-Criminal Instruction No. 1.01[3] (“It is your duty to determine the facts and to determine them only from the evidence in this case.”).

Where a recording contains statements in a foreign language, it is proper for the trier of fact to rely upon translations in the transcript as substantive evidence. People v. Betance-Lopez, 2015 IL App (2d) 130521, ¶¶ 31-33, 38 N.E.3d 36, 43-44. When addressing a recorded conversation in a language other than English, merely giving “the usual admonition that the [recording] is the evidence and the transcript only a guide is not only nonsensical, it has the potential for harm where the jury includes bilingual jurors.” Betance-Lopez, 2015 IL App (2d) 130521, ¶ 32, 38 N.E.3d at 43 (citing United States v. Fuentes-Montijo, 68 F.3d 352, 355-56 (9th Cir. 1995)).

When applicable, give Instruction 3.20A.

Use this instruction when the original recording is not in English. In these circumstances, do not give Instruction 3.20.

Insert in the blanks the non-English language spoken.

Use applicable bracketed material.

3.21

Weighing Informant Testimony

Committee Note

The Committee recommends that no instruction be given on this subject.

While the credibility of a government informant is a question for the jury, courts have held that Instruction 1.02 properly informs the jury of its responsibility to judge the credibility of each witness, and that a special jury instruction about informants is contrary to Illinois law. People v. Trice, 2017 IL App (4th) 150429, ¶¶ 44-45, 87 N.E.3d 1087, 1096-97; People v. Evans, 209 Ill. 2d 194, 808 N.E.2d 939 (2004). In Trice, the court additionally noted that the Committee generally “disapproves of instructions which comment on particular types of evidence.” Trice, 2017 IL App (4th) 150429, ¶ 46, 87 N.E.3d at 1097 (quoting the Instruction to Chapter 3).

Law Enforcement Officer-Worn Body Camera Recordings

You have heard testimony that _____ was wearing a body-worn camera but the recording was [(not captured) (destroyed) (altered) (intermittently captured)]. If you find by a preponderance of the evidence that the recording was intentionally [(not captured) (destroyed) (altered) (intermittently captured)] and the State did not provide a reasonable justification for this action, you should consider that when determining what weight to give this evidence.

Committee Note

50 ILCS 706/10-30 (West 2023), effective January 1, 2016.

Give Instruction 4.18, defining the term “preponderance of the evidence”.

Use this instruction when there is some evidence to support it. People v. Tompkins, 2023 IL 127805, ¶ 47.

Section 10-30 includes the intentionality of the officer’s conduct and the lack of reasonable justification as two separate considerations, leaving the determination of each to the finder of fact. Tompkins, 2023 IL 127805, ¶ 52. Thus the jury is tasked with determining whether an officer purposefully, and not accidentally, failed to record an incident. Id. If the jury finds that it was purposeful, the jury then must consider whether the failure was reasonably justified. Id.

Insert the name of the law enforcement officer whose body-worn camera is at issue in the blank.

Testimony through Interpreter

You [(are about to hear) (heard)] testimony from a witness who [(will be speaking) (spoke)] in the _____ language. Witnesses who do not speak English or are more proficient in another language testify through an official court interpreter. You must not make any assumptions about a witness or party based solely on the fact that an interpreter was used. You should give this testimony the same consideration you would give it had the witness himself testified in English.

Although some of you may know the _____ language, it is important that all jurors consider the same evidence. Therefore, you must accept and rely only on the English interpretation of this testimony. Disregard any perceived different meaning. Do not comment to fellow jurors on what you heard in the _____ language. Do not reinterpret for other jurors testimony that has been interpreted by the court interpreter because that would be providing information not admitted in court.

Committee Note

This instruction should be given both before a witness testifies in a language other than English and an interpreter translates that testimony as well as at the conclusion of the case in the final instructions to the jury.

The instruction is premised on the principle that a juror must “be capable of disregarding his or her impressions or opinions and decide the case based solely upon the evidence presented in court.” People v. Kirchner, 194 Ill. 2d 502, 529, 743 N.E. 2d 94, 108 (2000); IPI - Criminal Instruction No. 1.01[3] (“It is your duty to determine the facts and to determine them only from the evidence in this case.”). Accordingly, courts have held that it constitutes juror misconduct for a juror to retranslate testimony that has been translated by the interpreter. People v. Cabrera, 230 Cal.App.3d 300, 303, 281 Cal.Rptr. 238 (1991).

Insert in the blanks the non-English language used by the witness.

Use applicable bracketed material.

3.24 Stipulations

You are now about to hear a stipulation. A stipulation is an agreement between the parties

[as to the existence of certain facts. You should consider this evidence in the same manner as all the other evidence in the case.]

[or]

[that if _____ were called to testify, [(he) (she)] would testify as set forth in the stipulation. You should consider this testimony in the same manner as if _____ were here in court, testifying under oath.]

Committee Note

This instruction should be given before a stipulation is read to the jury. The Committee suggests that, prior to trial, the court should address with counsel the best manner to present the stipulation to the jury. Because evidence received by way of a stipulation is included in Instruction 1.01, this instruction should not be given with the final instructions to the jury.

A stipulation is an agreement between the parties with respect to an issue before the court. People v. Woods, 214 Ill. 2d 455, 468 (2005). Stipulations function as a substitute for proof that dispenses with the need for additional evidence. Id. A stipulation is conclusive as to all matters included in it, and no additional proof of the stipulated facts is necessary. People v. Gray, 2024 IL 127815, ¶ 26. In other words, a stipulation satisfies the parties' obligation to prove the agreed upon matters. Gray, 2024 IL 127815, ¶ 27. Although stipulations may bind the parties and relieve them of the burden of proving stipulated facts or testimony, "stipulations do not bind the jury, and jurors may accept or reject them." State v. Allen, 223 Ariz. 125, 127 (2009).

Except in specific instances where the stipulation is tantamount to a guilty plea, neither the trial court nor counsel has an obligation to admonish the defendant regarding the stipulation and ensure that the advisement is made a part of the record. People v. Clendenin, 238 Ill. 2d 302, 320 (2010).

Insert the name of the person testifying via stipulation in the blank.

Use applicable bracketed material.
