

Rule 31. Seniority in the Supreme Court

Seniority among the judges of the Supreme Court shall be determined by length of continuous service, but if the terms of two or more judges begin at the same time they shall determine the seniority as between or among themselves by lot, unless they are able to determine it by agreement.

Committee Comments

This is former Rule 56 without change of substance.